ARMISTICE DAY

Armistice day is the only national holiday whose origin is part of the memory of most living Americans. They remember the delicious occasion in 1918 when the nightmare of the World war was ended. This year they will observe the 16th anniversary of the most memorable occasion in the history of their time.

No one attempting to look into the future 16 years ago would have been able to see what has happened between 1918 and 1934. It must have seemed then that Nov. 11 always would be remembered as the date on which the World war ended. Because it was observed the first time in a spirit of thankfulness, the day always would be an occasion for gaiety.

But it was not to be so. Armistice day in 1934 will be an occasion for remembrance of the dead and for apprehension lest another war cause the same bitter misery. Sixteen years after the event, the conclusion of a great war is less a cause of celebration than it is a cause to question the trends which are pushing humanity toward another war.

It appears sometimes that men have learned nothing from the horrible experiences of modern warfare. Jealousies, hatreds and ambitions still feed the martial spirit. Nations are arming and pushing each other for advantages, just as they did before the World war. It did not require 10 years of peace after the World war to give people time to realize that "the war to end war" was fought in vain.

But one lesson has been learned—a lesson which may, eventually, do more to bring peace than treaties and alliances. The masses have learned that war is not glorious. They have learned to loathe it, to fear it and to fear the men whose plans call for war. This is a great achievement. The roots of the martial spirit always have been strong enough in cannon fodder to support the warmakers. As the roots grow weaker war inevitably will become more remote. War no longer is the natural destiny of populations, but a tragic accident, which deprives them of their right to live happily.

RECORDS THAT COUNT

Without previous ballyhoo and almost without excitement, American enterprise has brought Los Angeles and New York City within 12 hours of each other. It's records like this one which really count. The airplane used was a commercial machine altered slightly to permit a larger cargo of fuel than ordinarily is carried. The same distance has been covered in less time by a racing plane, but racing planes can't carry passengers.

One thinks of the recent London to Melbourne race, in which a racing plane was crowded for first place by two American-built passenger ships. Speed alone isn't enough. When speed can be combined with utility, aviation can begin to boast.

The United States has let itself be outdone on the seas after making a bid for supremacy with its famous Yankee clipper ships. It has earned a high place in steam transportation and has developed the automobile to a point where it is almost universally used.

But in aviation the possibilities of clean-cut supremacy are brighter than they ever were in boats, railroads and automobiles. The United States has appeared to lag sometimes, despite its original interest in airplanes. With its newest passenger planes, however, it is making up most of the ground it has lost.

THE STARS SAY

For Sunday, November 11

Sunday's horoscope holds augury of lively and prosperous conditions in all affiliations, business as well as private. Particularly do affairs of a spiritual, mystical, curious or intriguing nature flourish and employment may have its gratifications.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a very lively, enterprising and successful year, with the energies and faculties under high stimulus for launching new projects and worth while undertakings.

A child born on this day should be energetic, resourceful, practical and of high initiative and talents, succeeding in employment as well as in individual enterprises.

Notable nativity: Maude Adams, dramatic actress.

For Monday, November 12

Monday's astrological forecast is for a day of difficult, devastating and treacherous conditions, according to the chain of adverse lunar aspects, unless the kindly offices of an elderly and worth while friend or associate intervene to negative disagreeable situations. In all manner of affairs there is need for wariness, precaution, sagacity and self-restraint.

Those whose birthday it is should prepare themselves for a year requiring precaution, wise counsel, good judgment as well as conservative and controlled action on all matters coming up for decision and operation.

A child born on this day while studious, practical and industrious may be difficult to handle and may lean to ways of expedience rather than principle.

Notable nativity: Elizabeth Stanton, reformer.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 10—Purely personal piffle: Wherever I am at twilight seems the most romantic place in the world. No criminal ever suggested the hunted animal like Hauptmann. Mac West's art in a phrase—enraptured nasality. Never heard Will H. Hays speak disparagingly of a human being.

Nobody can chin the sky and pat himself on the back so neatly as Mussolini. Latest stage crash—Ika Chase. No word expresses disdain like thirty. A slate pencil pulled through the teeth makes my nose twitch rabbitlike. I usually try to get off things before hat check and news-stand girls.

When Grandma got angry, she exclaimed: "Law me, poo!" Favorite walk: Harlem Speedway at dusk. The only capsule mustache that never annoyed me was that of Paul Whiteman. Most smartly dressed New York lady: Mrs. Byron Foy. America's No. 1 citizen: Col. Charles Lindbergh.

Percy Hammond on a word drunk is high in contemporary journalism. And Frank Sullivan, in a nutty mood, can put me in stitches. Season's fastest going melodrama so far: "Small Miracle." I like to pronounce "Ipso Facto" and the name of the author Ruth Suckow, pronounced Sog-Koo.

I wish Herriman would quit misplacing quotation marks in those grand Krat cartoons. Most conspicuous of the season's turning the other cheek: Moss Hart who lampooned the Rockefellers in a stage skit, hired to do Radio City's operetta. Owen D. Young's middle hair part has the fixity of a porthole. Kay Francis rarely ever pronounces her l's, r's and w's.

Every girl I've known called Frankie has been a redhead. Slickest of the stage's smart talkers, on and off, is Frank Fay. Memorable breakfast—waffles with honey and sausage with fried apple rings at the St. Charles in New Orleans. The only time I ever took gas, they yanked the wrong tank. A valued letter is from Donn Byrne dated the day before his tragic passing. The St. Louis union station is most romantic of all to me. It's the first I ever saw. You could chin yourself on the garlic aroma of the only East Indian prince I ever met. No one ever sung darkey songs like Esther Walker 15 years ago. Or danced so nimbly as Jack Donahue. All my life I've had a mad desire to jerk the bell rope on a fast train.

They are giving Al Smith a great big hand at the news reels again. Most interesting museum exhibit to me was that of Billy the Kid at Santa Fe, N. M. The Hague has the most fashionably dressed men. Royce Brier, San Francisco reporter, has written the best recent newspaper novel in "Reach for the Moon."

Irvin Cobb's father traded his interest in a condiment company for a sidewheel steamboat. That share of profits today nets a million a year. The only time I ever let anyone else completely write my column, I discovered later it was a famous English essay. And did I sit staring out the window? I'm the early bird that usually arrives at parties with the hired butler. William Philip Simms is the best dressed newspaper correspondent. Our town had a barbershop with three of the proprietor's daughters barbering. Popeye the Sailor has attained my Mickey Mouse enthusiasms. I stood in a drizzle three hours once to see James Gordon Bennett enter the Herald building. Brock Pemberton's new star, Gladys George, gave the season's pattest first night performance.

I never fell in love with a school teacher. On the contrary. But was a setup for repertoire soubrettes and the gals on the cigarette pictures. No smart writing fascinated me like Billy Baxter's letters. Laredo, Tex., is the only place I was ever treated shabbily at customs. Any time I see a youngish brunette with a streak of white in her hair, I shoot my cuffs and follow like a hound a covered wagon. Helen Menken is another secret stage love. So is Christie MacDonald. There hasn't been a day in years that I didn't feel I could not possibly finish the column. The unphoneyest modesty among modern geniuses is expressed by George Gershwin. If I could play an accordion like a favorite comedian, Phil Baker, do card tricks like Cardini and tap dance like Bill Robinson, you can be Prince of Wales.

Diet Factor In Cure of Anemia

Anemia is a condition in which the blood is deficient either in the number of red blood corpuscles or cells, or in the amount of "hemoglobin," or coloring matter. This disease usually follows a severe loss of blood as in hemorrhage or is due to an infection. It also occurs where the diet is deficient in certain nutritive elements and after any prolonged period of starvation.

"Pernicious anemia" is a severe form of anemia. It is characterized by a marked reduction in the number of red blood cells. Despite rest, food and medication, the body is unable to manufacture new blood cells. The cause of this form of anemia has never been determined.

Curative Value of Liver For years sufferers from pernicious anemia were doomed. Then came the discovery of two physicians, Doctors Minot and Murphy, who pointed out the curative value of liver in this disease. Since this epoch-making discovery many victims of pernicious anemia have recovered from this dread disease. The discovery that liver is a means of combatting pernicious anemia is one of the outstanding achievements of the present day.

Though liver is of great value in the treatment of pernicious anemia, the importance of certain minerals must not be overlooked. Iron is known to be extremely beneficial in the diet of the sufferer from anemia. In addition the presence of copper and magnesium in the diet is now believed to be helpful, aiding the proper utilization of iron.

It is always a good plan to include in the diet foods rich in these mineral salts. Meat, eggs, fruits and green vegetables, such as lettuce, spinach and all of the cabbage family, as well as yellow vegetables, such as carrots and squash, should be eaten freely.

Fruits Beneficial Too Include fruits, particularly bananas, pineapple, citrus fruits, fresh or dried apricots, peaches, prunes, dates, figs and raisins in the daily menu. Other fruits and foods may be consumed, but it is always advisable to follow a definite plan outlined by your physician.

Regular blood tests should be made to determine the progress of the anemia. Within one week definite signs of improvement may be noted. The number of red blood cells should increase and the hemoglobin or coloring matter gradually approaches the normal percentage. The patient should not tire as easily and there is a distinct improvement in the color and general health.

Rose Bowl Situation Should Be Clarified By Games Today

OHIO-CHICAGO CLASH TODAY AT COLUMBUS

Coach Shaughnessy Undecided About Berwanger, Bartlett

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Nov. 10.—Ohio and Chicago were ready to clash at 2 p. m. today in a Big Ten battle, and Clark Shaughnessy, coach of the Maroons, was still silent on whether his star halfbacks, Jay Berwanger and Ned Bartlett, would be in the starting lineup.

The two stellar half-backs have not practiced all week, due to injuries and yesterday afternoon, as the Maroons worked out at the Ohio stadium, the pair limped through some very simple maneuvers. Ohio has a 14-pound per man weight advantage over the invaders, and the experts give the Buckeyes at least a two-touchdown edge.

Ohio's high-powered offense has clicked to such an extent that the guessers can't believe the Maroon forward wall is capable of stopping the heavy Ohio backs, or the Chicago secondary wreck the Buckeye tricky aerial attack.

About 35,000 fans were expected to witness the game.

The probable lineups:
CHICAGO Pos. OHIO
B. Peterson LE Busch
Womert LT Haare
Perret LG Monahan (C)
Patterson (C) C Jones
Whitfield RG Roush
Bush RT Hamrick
Baker RB Wendt
Flynn QB Puch

Mount Host To Wooster 'Scots'

The color and glamour of traditional rivalry of long years' standing will flare anew this afternoon at Mount Union stadium when the fighting Purple gridders trot out to battle Wooster's rampaging 'Scots.'

The game is of major importance to both schools. Victory for Mount Union would assure a successful season, supply one of the major upsets of the campaign in the Ohio conference and more than atone for the 51 to 0 defeat suffered at Wooster in 1933.

In addition, a Purple triumph would virtually blast Wooster's hopes of winning the conference championship. Wooster is unbeaten and untied in conference competition.

Mounters Outweighed

Coach Harry Geitz's boys will be facing one of the most severe tests of the season in tackling the Wooster 'Scots.' Wooster has one of the heaviest aggressions in the conference and will outweigh the Mounters by considerable margin.

Studebakers Play At East Palestine

The Althouse Studebakers, due to play an old timers aggregation here Monday afternoon in a benefit encounter, will go to East Palestine on Sunday to collide with an East Palestine Ex-High eleven in a game, proceeds of which will go to relief causes there.

Members of the Studebaker team will meet at 12:15 p. m. Sunday at the Althouse garage to make the trip.

East Palestine plans to play the local pros here the following Sunday, Nov. 18.

The following are requested to report: Waggie, B. Orco, A. Orco, Smythe, H. Houts, A. Houts, Troll, Zellers, Roelen, Altamare, Herman, Stratton, DeJana, Scullion, Catios, Herberts, Drakulich, Cimenell, Ballempo.

Four Horsemen Of Case Fame

These four horsemen of the gridiron provide the Cleveland Case eleven with its current power attack.

Buckeye's Big Dick Heekin Is One Great Ohio Halfback

Does About Everything For State Eleven; Gets Notice As All-American Timber

(Special To The News)
COLUMBUS, Nov. 10.—Son of a variety football player at Ohio State more than a score of years ago, a coffee salesman in his spare time and one of the best all-around gridiron players who has donned the scarlet in many years, Richard "Dick" Heekin of Cincinnati is one of the country's leading candidates for all-America honors.

Playing right halfback on the Ohio State varsity Heekin has been a big factor in the showing of the Buckeye team this fall. At the top or near the top of the Western Conference scoring Heekin has rapidly become one of the most feared backs in the conference.

Heekin has shown everything, a great back should have. His average through the first half of the season has been a minute fraction less than 6 yards on 30 to 32 yards; he is above the average punter, a great forward passer and a receiver of no mean ability. But on top of all that the thing that pleases most is that he is the best blocker on the team.

Top Scales at 196
Weighing 196 pounds, he has the ability to rip through the opposing line and usually it takes two and sometimes three tacklers to bring him to earth. Heekin is the kind of a player that will twist, squirm, and fight for that extra yard after he is supposedly stopped.

Then, too, he is the fastest man on the squad. Last week, against Western Reserve, he ran back a kickoff 92 yards for a touchdown and tapers declare that it was exactly 15 seconds from the time Reserve kicked the ball until Heekin had crossed the goal line. On straight running, in football regalia, he can step the length of a football field in 10 seconds flat.

Runs For "Tippy" Dye
"Tippy" Dye, Ohio's 133-pound quarterback, is a great favorite of Heekin and when this "muscular molecule" has the ball opposing players find him difficult to stop because usually Big Heekin is looking out for his boy and will block just twice as hard trying to clear a path for the youngster.

Coach Francis A. Schmidt, who has been in the coaching game for 19 years, declares that Heekin is the best all-around player he has been privileged to see in action.

Heekin is a junior in the college of arts. He is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity, weighs 196 lbs. and stands six feet one inch in height.

3 CANDIDATES FOR CLASSIC FIGHT TODAY

Pacific Coast Representative to Be Either Sanford, Washington

By BOB CAVANAUGH, Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The Rose Bowl situation, muddled by one of the most topsy-turvy campaigns in the history of collegiate football, will be somewhat clarified today with three candidates for the annual New Year's day classic involving in tie-tale contests featuring a program mostly of intersectional gridiron warfare.

The Pacific coast's representatives for the mid-winter classic at Pasadena probably will be the winner of the Stanford-Washington contest, while Tulane, mentioned as an eastern prospect, engages the Red Raiders of Colgate in the Yankee stadium here.

Two Others Mentioned

Two of the south's other nominees for the Rose Bowl assignment—Louisiana State and Alabama—will attempt to strengthen their claims at the expense of George Washington and Clemson, respectively. Alabama is figured an easy winner but L. S. U. must win its all-American cheer leader, Huey Long, may find itself in a real dog-fight with the Colonials at Washington.

Syracuse and Michigan State, with impressive and spotless records, meet in the northern New York city to give additional intersectional tone to the eastern program marked otherwise by Georgia's invasion of Yale, South Carolina's joust with Villanova and Duquesne's tussle with Oklahoma A & M.

Army's annual battle with Harvard, and the Temple-Carnegie and Fordham-West Virginia games furnish the principal purely domestic flavor.

Pitt Meets Nebraska

Navy and Notre Dame, meeting in Cleveland, command main interest in the mid-west with the Sailors figured to sail to their seventh successive triumph although it would not be particularly surprising if the Hoosiers won. Other major games in that section include Pitt's invasion of Lincoln to play Nebraska and the joint efforts of Minnesota, Illinois and Purdue to continue in the Big Ten title chase at the expense of Indiana, Northwestern and Iowa, respectively. Ohio State and Chicago, Michigan and Wisconsin, are the other conference pairings.

Down in the southwest, Rice's bid for the conference crown carries the high-powered Owls against Arkansas' Razorbacks while Texas plays Baylor and Southern Methodist meets Texas A. & M.

Army Predicted To Win Over Harvard

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 10.—The Harvard-Army game here today, although looming as a one-sided Army victory, will attract a 50,000 crowd of the stadium, indicating that the colorful spectacle has retained its appeal despite Harvard's three successive defeats this season. Two of Harvard's star ball carriers, Fred Moseley and Don Jackson, will be out of the game.

Bucyrus Winner

BUCYRUS, Nov. 10.—Bucyrus High's Fighting Redmen triumphantly closed their home season here last night with a 25 to 12 victory over a game Norwalk team. Seventeen seniors played their last home contest for the Redmen.

Navy Seeks Revenge in Battle With Notre Dame

Zabriskie, Navy guard; George Caldwell, Notre Dame quarterback; Fred Borries, Navy halfback.

The midshipmen of the U. S. Naval academy seek revenge for a long string of defeats when they clash with Notre Dame's Irish in an important intersectional football contest at Cleveland next Saturday. The Navy is declared to have the best team it has had in years, and its chances of downing the South Bend gridders are good. This lay-out shows some of the outstanding players.

Old Timers Ready For Charity Duel With Studebakers

Out of the following array of old timers, former ex-high, college and professional football players, will come some sort of a lineup to be pitted against the city present outstanding semi-pro eleven, the Althouse Studebakers, here Monday afternoon in a charity game for the benefit of the Associated Charities.

The roster includes: George Eric Muncell, Chris Zelle, "Twing" Seeds, George Baillie, Ed Dowd, Lester Older, Mike Corso and L. Konner.

Len Yates, Francis Simonds, Bob Snyder, Rib Allen, Remond and Snyder, Joe Corso, Mike, Pete and John Sartick, Tony Cimminelli, Don Mathews, Bob Campbell, Dan Wilaman and Bill Robush.

Also Ray Reasbeck, Pete Harsh, Orrie Galbreath, Jim Smith, Gus Sechler, Bill McKown, B. Burcaw and Weber's semi-pro gridders.

The old timers met Friday night in Memorial building with Joe Kelly to complete plans for the game which will start on Reilly field at 2:30 p. m.

Dartmouth Captain Is Operated On

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 10.—Acting Captain Charles Stearns of Dartmouth underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis today at the college infirmary. Dr. John Gile, who performed the operation, said Stearns was "doing well."

Stearns, who lives in Mansfield, Mass., reported to football Coach Earl Blair that he was bothered with stomach trouble yesterday and was dismissed from practice early.

70,000 WITNESS NAVY-IRISH IN CONTEST TODAY

Navy Given Advantage In Battle At Cleveland Stadium

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Nov. 10.—A Navy team with six straight victories and quite a few tricks in its duffel bags prepared to add Notre Dame to its 1934 list in the Cleveland stadium today.

A crowd of nearly 75,000 is expected to watch Navy try to do the trick it couldn't quite make here in 1932. Walter D. Davis, stadium manager, said he "never saw anything like" the advance sale of tickets and hoped for a capacity crowd of 80,115.

Navy Has Advantage
Navy speed and deception is expected to overcome Notre Dame's weight advantage.

Notre Dame has beaten Navy six times in the last seven years. Navy brought the winning streak to an end in Baltimore last year with a 7 to 0 victory.

Homers Hit by Ruth, Averill, Warstler

(By Associated Press)
TOKYO, Nov. 10.—After paying tribute to a Japanese prince, America's barnstorming baseball players smashed out a 10 to 0 victory over the Nippon All-Stars before a capacity crowd of 65,000 in Meiji stadium today.

Gomez Hurls Ten
Lefty Gomez allowed the stars of Japan only two hits as Babe Ruth, Earl Averill and Harold Warstler pounded out home runs. Gomez struck out 18.

In the third inning the Americans were called upon to line-up with the native players in front of the plate, uncover their heads and bow in the direction of the imperial box. Prince Kitashirakawa, head of the collateral branches of the imperial family, had just arrived. Americans 120 120 400—10 11 1 Nippon All-Stars 000 000 000—0 2 3 Gomez and Fox; Sawamura and Inokawa, Koji.

NEWS IN BRIEF

CLEVELAND—In June, 1883, Mrs. Josephine S. Gregory rented two safety deposit boxes and paid a year's rent in advance. She never came back. The bank, now in liquidation, guarded the property for 50 years. Yesterday officials decided to open the vaults. They found: a water pitcher, six cups and saucers (some cracked), a box of nails, screws and twine, a sock without a mate, a bed sheet, spread and bureau cover, a basket containing a sea shell, two tumblers, some faded asters, a towel rack, a whiskbroom and seven yellowed books.

CHICAGO—"Let me serve her sentence, too."
So said George Kennison, 30, of Kansas City, Mo., when he was arraigned before Federal Judge Chas. E. Woodward with Miss Gabriel Sidney of Rock Island, Ill., for interstate transportation of a stolen automobile.

But the court, in effect, said "no." Kennison and Harry Randolph, 24, of Chicago, were sentenced to five years. The girl was given 18 months.

CHAPTER NO. 4
"YOUNG EAGLES"

Bette Davis in Domestic Scene

The retiring Mr. Harmon Nelson, Jr., husband of Bette Davis, film star, who is seldom photographed with her, is seen at her side in the home of her uncle, Myron Davis, Boston, Mass., during a visit there.

"Cleopatra" Begins Week of Good Films Coming To State and Grand

A splendid array of pictures is scheduled at the State and Grand theaters for the coming week beginning with the showing Sunday and Monday at the State of the spectacular "Cleopatra," Cecil B. DeMille's spectacular production.

Excellent Cast
Claudette Colbert, maker of a beautiful Cleopatra and her performance has been highly acclaimed as have those of Warren William as "Julius Caesar" and Henry Wilcoxon as "Marc Antony." Others in a notable and talented cast include Joseph Schildkraut as "Horus," Ian Keith as "Octavian," C. Aubrey Smith as "Enobarbus," Gertrude Michael as the tragic "Calpurnia," and Irving Pichel as "Apollodorus."

This is but a few of the names of the known players and besides the rest of the cast there are in addition 5,000 extras. For as in all DeMille productions there are mob scenes and for the picture these 5,000 people earned daily salaries.

As DeMille is noted for his mob scenes, so is he noted for the grandeur of his pictures—and "Cleopatra" more than lives up to that reputation. It is a strikingly beautiful film with gigantic sets depicting the life in old Rome during the time of Caesar's reign. All the glory that was Egypt is shown in this screen masterpiece, bringing to the motion picture industry once more all the talent of this master of the spectacle. War chariots thunder across the sands, spears glisten in the thrills of battles, dancing girls swirl through the grand marble halls, and through it all, in clear tones, rings the world's greatest love story that has lived throughout the ages. DeMille has completely modernized his story and his people without losing any of the glamorous backgrounds.

But the film does not depend entirely upon its production to get across. The love affairs of Cleopatra have come down through the ages, noted for his mob scenes, so is he noted for the grandeur of his pictures—and "Cleopatra" more than lives up to that reputation. It is a strikingly beautiful film with gigantic sets depicting the life in old Rome during the time of Caesar's reign. All the glory that was Egypt is shown in this screen masterpiece, bringing to the motion picture industry once more all the talent of this master of the spectacle. Faces Fine of FDIC

J. M. Nichols

J. M. Nichols, above, head of the First National bank of Englewood, Ill., assertedly has requested that he be brought to court for his refusal to pay the insurance assessment of one-half per cent of his bank's deposits in compliance with regulations of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation. Nichols denounced the FDIC when informed his bank faced a fine of $100 a day for failure to become a member and pay the assessment.

DRIVE CAREFULLY TODAY

TIP FOR NIGHT DRIVERS

Danger as well as annoyance is in store when it becomes necessary to stop for a puncture, blow-out or engine trouble on the highway at night. If such a stop becomes necessary, drive off the pavement or road if the surface permits. It is up to you to prevent a rear-end collision with approaching vehicles, even if this demands personally signalling all approaching cars. Keep your lights on, both front and rear, and as you work with your car to repair the damage, be sure to avoid obstructing head or taillights.—A. A. A.
